

Universität
Basel

Departement
Geschichte

BASEL
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF HISTORY

A Decade in History: Concepts, Events, Emotions

Virtual Lecture
by Miri Rubin (London)

10 Years Basel Graduate School of History

May 20, 2021, via ZOOM

17.45–18.15 Virtual Apéro

18.15–18.45 Welcome

F. Benjamin Schenk (University of Basel)

Introduction

Susanna Burghartz (University of Basel)

18.45–19.25 A Decade in History: Concepts, Events, Emotions

Miri Rubin (Queen Mary University of London)

After a decade of collaboration, and over a year of scholarship online, Miri Rubin will reflect on what historians – in their great diversity – want, do, and wish for.

19.25– 19.40 Group Discussion

19.40–20.00 Concluding Discussion

20.00– Virtual Apéro (wonder.me)
open end

Please, bring an object that represents a special time or event in the last 10 years.

Miri Rubin is Professor of Medieval and Early Modern History at Queen Mary University of London. Her research has introduced new approaches to the study of social relations in the predominantly religious cultures of medieval Europe. She focuses on history of religious cultures, social and community relations, Jewish-Christian relations, gender, identity and the body: ideas as well as practices, visual and material expressions of ideas and practices, urban life and attitudes to strangers.