

Transcultural Exchanges from the Middle Ages to Modernity

Doctoral Workshop of the School of History at the Queen Mary University of London and the Basel Graduate School of History

The School of History at Queen Mary University of London and the Basel Graduate School of History organise their fourth common workshop (2-3 December 2016, Basel). A distinctive aspect of the institutional exchange is that both QM and Basel favour chronological spread and to think about common theoretical problems of concern to historians whatever their temporal or regional specialisms. From this perspective, the workshop focuses on human interaction across cultural borders. Transcultural exchanges in respect of knowledge, commodities, material culture, religion, etc. are topics that currently attract a great deal of interest. PhD students at Queen Mary and Basel working on such issues are encouraged to offer papers for discussion and debate.

Call for Applications: PhD students willing to present a paper can submit proposals until 30th September 2016 here.

When and Where: 2. December 2016, 13:00-19:30, Seminar room 4
3. Dezember 2016, 09:00-15:00, Seminar room 4

Final registration: For all participants: via Flexiform no later than 15 November 2016; or BGSB members aiming to earn 1 ECTS point: additionally via MoNA no later than 17 October 2016
